b. UN Women Terms of Reference

1. Introduction

a. Background/context for required services/results

UN Women, grounded on the vision of equality enshrined in the Charter of the United Nations, works for the elimination of discrimination against women and girls; the empowerment of women; and the achievement of equality between women and men as partners and beneficiaries of development, human rights, humanitarian action and peace and security. Placing women's rights at the centre of all its efforts, UN Women leads and coordinates United Nations system efforts to ensure that commitments on gender equality and gender mainstreaming translate into action throughout the world. It provides strong and coherent leadership in support of Member States' priorities and efforts, building effective partnerships with civil society and other relevant actors.

UN Women in Albania works closely with government institutions, civil society and international partners to support the design and implement of laws, policies, programmes and services to improve the status of women and achieve global standards for gender equality. UN Women is a key member of the UN Albania country team, leading and coordinating UN action on gender equality issues.

Albania has made important steps in the area of gender equality and end of violence against women (EVAW). The country is party to key human rights treaties, including the Convention for the Elimination of all Forms of Discrimination against Women (CEDAW), and the Council of Europe Convention on preventing and combating violence against women and domestic violence (Istanbul Convention). Comprehensive legislation has been adopted and institutional measures have been taken to ensure coordinated response from all relevant government agencies to gender-based violence. However, despite progress, violence against women continues to be a significant human rights concern and challenges are present across areas, including prevention, protection and prosecution of perpetrators. Thus, intensified efforts are needed to close existing gaps in the actions of all government and non-government actors in charge of addressing gender-based violence in Albania.

In Albania, UN Women provides technical assistance to national partners (governmental and non-governmental institutions) on the implementation of existing international and national commitments to women's rights and gender equality. Currently, a UN Joint Programme "Ending Violence against Women", Phase II, 2023-2025 (UNJP on EVAW II), funded by Government of Sweden is being implemented by UN Women, UNDP, and UNFPA in partnership with the Albanian Government. This Programme follows Phase I of the UNJP on EVAW, implemented from 2019 to 2022 and it is in line with Outcome 4: Gender Responsive Governance of the Albania-UN Sustainable Development Cooperation Framework (CF). UNJP on EVAW II aims at ensuring that: (i) women and girls enjoy more effective preventive measures against violence; (ii) women survivors and those at risk are better protected from all forms of violence and have equitable access to services; and (iii) responsible institutions and actors implement national policies and legislation on VAW in a more comprehensive, inclusive and coordinated way in Albania.

In this context, UN Women and other UN agencies are providing support to the Government of Albania to improve and implement the legal framework in the areas of gender-based violence and bring it to full conformity with the international human rights standards. The Law on Measures Against Violence in Family Relations of 2006 (DV Law), and its subsequent amendments in 2018 and 2020, are aligned with CEDAW and the Istanbul Convention. The Law includes provisions for better protection of women and children in situations of immediate danger; adding preliminary protection measures by the police; more effective judiciary procedures; and extension of protection to victims of violence who are not necessarily cohabitating but involved in an intimate relationship with their perpetrators. In addition, the Criminal Code, as amended in 2020, criminalizes psychological violence in family relations and including intimate or former intimate partners - regardless of cohabitation - in the category of victims of domestic violence. These amendments also impose harsher punishment for perpetrators of domestic violence.

Perpetrators programme

An important development introduced in the amendments of the Law on Domestic Violence is the obligation for the Court to order perpetrators' enrollment in rehabilitation psychosocial programmes and/or parenthood programmes organised by public and non-public providers.¹ The Law also provides the general framework of perpetrator programmes, which are required to be part of the coordinated community response to domestic violence in Albania - an essential condition to ensure the safety of survivors.

These legal provisions aim to align the Albanian legislation with the Istanbul Convention, which requires State Parties to take all the necessary legislative or other measures to set up or support programmes intended to teaching perpetrators of domestic violence to adopt non-violent behaviour in interpersonal relationships with a view to preventing further violence and changing violent behavioural patterns. To ensure adequate implementation of legal provisions, the Albanian National Strategy on Gender Equality and Action Plan (NSGE, 2021-2030) includes in its objectives, the establishment of rehabilitation programs for perpetrators across the 12 regions of the country and adoption of adequate standards and operating procedures. (Objective III, Measure III.1.3. of the NSGE: Creating perpetrator rehabilitation opportunities based on the Istanbul Convention standards and positive international models).

The legal and policy improvements reflect efforts over the last decade or so of a few survivor support CSOs, which started their perpetrator programmes, recognising the need to support survivors through work with those who do harm. There are currently five active perpetrator programmes in the country, which are characterised by the dedication of professionals and efforts of organisations to improve their services, thanks to the support of donors. However, these programmes cover only part of Albania's territories as initiatives supported by the government that would ensure a broad availability of the programmes and their sustainable operation are lacking.

Organizations running perpetrator programmes, with the technical and financial support of international women networks and donors have also undertaken initiatives to draft national standards for perpetrator work and specific operational protocols, which present an important step in the future development of programmes at the national level. These draft standards and protocols are based on international practice and experience of the local Albanian CSOs and expected to be officially approved by the relevant authorities.

b. General overview of services required/results

The project under this proposal contributes to the UN Joint Programme on EAW Phase II, and specifically to its first Outcome: "Women and girls enjoy more effective preventive measures against violence in Albania" - Output 1.2: Men and boys are included in VAW prevention and existing perpetrators' programmes are strengthened.

The scope of UN Women intervention is to partner with a civil society organisation to:

- Support the Ministry of Health and Social Protection to raise awareness about standards and operational procedures (SOPs) as well as guidelines on reintegration of perpetrators and increase capacities of local authorities/service providers on the establishment of perpetrator programmes throughout Albania.
- Implement standards and operational procedures on perpetrators programmes in selected municipalities of Albania.

In this context, UN Women is issuing a Call for Proposals (CfP) for local civil society organizations, which have previous experience in working with perpetrators of violence against women and running perpetrators programmes in Albania.

2. Description of required services/results

1. Support the Ministry of Health and Social Protection (MoHSP) to raise awareness about standards and operational procedures (SOPs) as well as guidelines on reintegration of perpetrators and increase capacities of local authorities on the establishment of perpetrator programmes throughout Albania.

With technical support of UN Women, the CSO Responsible Party is expected to collaborate with the Ministry of Health and Social Protection (MoHSP) to:

- Assess whether additional materials are needed to be developed as part of the SoPs and guidelines and if that is the case, upon approval by the MoHSP continue with the drafting process.
- With the lead of the MoHSP, organize consultations and capacity building activities, including trainings with key stakeholders (public and non-public) about perpetrator's programme, as well as approved SoPs and Guidelines.

The capacity building efforts should address work with perpetrators of intimate partners violence, domestic violence as well as other forms of violence against women, including sexual violence, stalking and harassment. The Responsible Party should acknowledge and give adequate recognition of efforts of all organisations and donors that has been working on the development of the standards, operational procedures (SOPs) and guidelines on reintegration of perpetrators in Albania.

2. Implement perpetrators programmes in target municipalities of Albania, selecting from: Tirana, Durres, Elbasan, Lushnje, Fier and Vlora Regions.

The Responsible Party can propose a perpetrators' programme that has been previously and successfully used by the organization, and comply with the following principles which need to be integrated in the proposal²:

- Prioritising the safety of survivors and doing no harm: The well-being of survivors must be prioritised by perpetrator programmes. The focus of the 'do no harm' principle is to take a survivor-centred approach in all activities to prevent and mitigate any negative impact of the intervention on survivors. A strong 'do no harm' approach needs to be based on a clear understanding of the context in the local culture, informed by women's voices and experiences to ensure the risks of violence do not increase because of the intervention.
- Gender-informed perpetrator programmes: Perpetrator programmes must take a gendered view by examining the role and influence of power and control within the relationship. Men's entitlement is socialised and must be included in the content of the perpetrator programme. The programmes also need to work with a comprehensive understanding of violence in all its forms.
- Accountability of perpetrators: Perpetrator programmes need to keep perpetrators accountable for their behaviour. This means that the responsibility for violence is put solely on them, and that mechanisms of denial, minimisation, victim-blaming or externalising are challenged through a self-reflective process.
- Accountability of perpetrator programmes: Perpetrator programmes must remain accountable to survivors, their families, survivor support services, organisations working in the field of GBV and DV, local community and society as a whole. Perpetrator programmes need to be a part of wide multi-agency system and ensure that accountability of perpetrators is highlighted and addressed.
- Be grounded in a human-rights approach: Programmes need to understand violence against women as a violation of human rights and act accordingly.
- Be part of a coordinated community response: Perpetrator programmes should not be run in isolation and need to be part of a coordinated community response to domestic violence.
- Be evidence-based and evidence-building: Programmes need to incorporate evidence-based interventions in their work. Likewise, programmes should contribute to a wider understanding of perpetrator programmes through taking part in research, evaluations, and showing results of their work in a transparent way.
- Be inclusive and intersectional: Perpetrator programmes should be tailored to meet the unique experiences and needs of communities affected by multiple forms of discrimination. Gender inequality must be addressed alongside other forms of oppression.
- Be context-informed: Programmes must be culturally appropriate in the national and local context, while maintaining all core principles of safe work.
- Ensure quality of work: Programmes need to set systems and procedures for ongoing monitoring and evaluation of their work. The evaluation of programmes needs to include the perspective of survivors, alongside information from other sources (perpetrators, official data, facilitators...).

The Responsible Party is encouraged to collaborate with other CSOs, including as sub-partners or sub-contractors, which offer perpetrator programmes.

All proposals must provide information regarding the use of Sub-partners and Sub-contractors (where relevant) and, if known, the names of such Sub-partners and Sub-contractors. If not known at the time of the proposal, the Partner shall immediately inform UN Women of the name/s of its Sub-partner/s or Sub-contractor/s, and their Sub-partner/s and Sub-contractor/s. The Partner shall ensure that each Sub-partner and Sub-contractor agrees in writing to be bound by the terms and conditions of the Partner Agreement relevant to the portion of the work or services to be performed by such Sub-partner or Sub-contractor.

As part of the submission, the Responsible Party will be required to provide a list of performance indicators and where relevant disaggregated by age, ethnicity, disability, sexual orientation, migration status, urban/rural areas etc. This data should be collected upon requested consent of beneficiaries to share such information. Indicators should include a measurement on the number of perpetrators supported by the programme for each target Municipality.

3. Timeframe: Start date and end date for completion of required services/results

Initial duration: March 2024 to February 2025, 12 months (tentative, with possibility of extension up to additional three months)

10. Proposal Currencies

- 10.1 All prices shall be quoted in (local currency) ALL.
- 10.2 UN Women reserves the right to reject any proposals submitted in a currency other than the mandatory currency for the proposal stated above. UN Women may accept proposals submitted in another currency than stated above if the proponent confirms during clarification of proposals, see item (9) above in writing, that it will accept a contract issued in the mandatory proposal currency and that for the purposes of conversion, the official United Nations operational rate of exchange of the day of CFP deadline (as stated in the CFP letter) shall apply.
- 10.3 Regardless of the currency stated in proposals received, the contract will always be issued and subsequent payments will be made in the mandatory currency for the proposal (as stated above).

11. Evaluation of Technical and Financial Proposals

11.1 PHASE I – TECHNICAL PROPOSAL (70 points)

Only proponents meeting the mandatory criteria will advance to the technical evaluation in which a maximum possible 70 points may be determined. Technical evaluators who are members of an Evaluation Committee appointed by UN Women will carry out the technical evaluation applying the evaluation criteria and point ratings as listed below. In order to advance beyond Phase I of the detailed evaluation process to Phase II (financial evaluation) a proposal must have achieved a minimum cumulative technical score of 50 points.

Suggested table for evaluating technical proposal

1	The proposal is compliant with the CFP requirements	15 points
2	The organization’s mandate is relevant to the work to be undertaken in the UN Women Terms of Reference (component 1)	20 points
3	The proposal demonstrates a sound understanding of the requirements of the UN Women Terms of Reference and indicates that the organization has the prerequisite capacity to undertake the work successfully (components 2, 3, 4 and 5)	35 points

	TOTAL	70 points

11.2 PHASE II - FINANCIAL PROPOSAL (30 points)

Financial proposals will be evaluated (using component 6) following completion of the technical evaluation. The proponent with the lowest evaluated cost will be awarded 30 points. Other financial proposals will receive pro-rated points based on the relationship of the proponents' prices to that of the lowest evaluated cost.

Formula for computing points: Points = (A/B) Financial Points

Example: Proponent A's price is the lowest at $10.00. Proponent A receives 30 points. Proponent B's price is $20.00. Proponent B receives ($10.00/$20.00) x 30 points = 15 points.

12. Preparation of Proposals

- 12.1 Proponents are expected to examine all terms and instructions included in the CFP documents. Failure to provide all requested information will be at the proponent's own risk and may result in rejection of the proponent's proposal.
- 12.2 The proponent's proposal must be organized to follow the format of this CFP. Each proponent must respond to every stated request or requirement and indicate that the proponent understands and confirms acceptance of UN Women's stated requirements. The proponent should identify any substantive assumption made in preparing its proposal. The deferral of a response to a question or issue to the contract negotiation stage is not acceptable. Any item not specifically addressed in the proponent's proposal will be deemed as accepted by the proponent. The terms "proponent" and "contractor" refer to those organizations that submit a proposal pursuant to this CFP.
- 12.3 Where the proponent is presented with a requirement or asked to use a specific approach, the proponent must not only state its acceptance, but also describe, where appropriate, how it intends to comply. Failure to provide an answer to an item will be considered an acceptance of the item. Where a descriptive response is requested, failure to provide one will be viewed as non-responsive.
- 12.4 The terms of reference in this document provides a general overview of the current operation. If the proponent wishes to propose alternatives or equivalents, the proponent must demonstrate that any such proposed change is equivalent or superior to UN Women established requirements. Acceptance of such changes is at the sole discretion of UN Women.
- 12.5 Proposals must offer services for the total requirement, unless otherwise permitted in the CFP document. Proposals offering only part of the services will be rejected unless permitted otherwise in the CFP document.
- 12.6 Proponents may use the services of sub-contractors or sub-partners to partially perform the work except if the proponent is providing grant-making work. The proponent's Technical Proposal shall indicate clearly if the proponent is intending to use sub-contractors or sub-partners and their names. If it is not possible to include the names of sub-partners and sub-contractors in the proposal, the names must be submitted to UN Women as soon as possible.
- 12.7 The proponent's proposal shall state the following and include all of the following labelled annexes:

CFP submission (on or before proposal due date):

As a minimum, proponents shall complete and return the below listed documents (annexes to this CFP) as an integral part of their proposal. Proponents may add additional documentation to their proposals as they deem appropriate.

Failure to complete and return the below listed documents as part of the proposal may result in proposal rejection.

Part of proposal	Annex B-1 Mandatory Requirements/Pre-Qualification Criteria and Contractual Aspects
Part of proposal	Annex B-2 Template for Proposal Submission
Part of proposal	Annex B-3 Format of Resume for Proposed Personnel
Part of proposal	Annex B-4 Capacity Assessment Minimum Documents

13 Format and Signing of Proposals

- 13.1 The proposal shall be typed or written in indelible ink and shall be signed by the proponent or a person or persons duly authorized to bind the proponent to the contract. The latter authorization shall be indicated by written power-of-attorney accompanying the proposal.
- 13.2 A proposal shall contain no interlineations, erasures, or overwriting except as necessary to correct errors made by the proponent, in which case such corrections shall be initialled by the person or persons signing the proposal.

14 Award

- 14.1 Award will be made to the responsible and responsive proponent with the highest evaluated proposal following negotiation of an acceptable contract. Component 1: Organizational Background and Capacity to implement activities to achieve planned results (max 1.5 pages)

This section should provide an overview (with relevant annexes) that clearly demonstrate that the proponent has the capacity and commitment to implement the proposed activities and produce results successfully. Key elements to be covered in this section include:

1. the nature of the proponent – whether it is a community-based organization, national or sub-national NGO, research or training institution, etc.;
2. the overall mission, purpose, and core programmes/services of the organization;
3. the organization’s target population groups (women, indigenous peoples, youth, etc.);
4. the organizational approach (philosophy) - how the organization delivers its projects (e.g., gender-sensitive, rights-based, etc.);
5. the organization’s length of existence and relevant experience;
6. an overview of the organization’s capacity relevant to the proposed engagement with UN Women (e.g., technical, governance and management, and financial and administrative management);
7. details of the following relating to prevention of SEA:
 - a. describe what measures are in place to prevent SEA;
 - b. describe reporting and monitoring mechanisms and procedures;
 - c. describe what capacity exists to investigate SEA allegations;

 - f. describe what reference and background checks have been done for employees and associated personnel.
8. details relating to grant-making work, if applicable:
 - a. describe the proponent’s institutional capacity to manage grants, including appropriate grant award management, system/framework for undertaking grant proposal evaluation, due diligence and, appropriate governance and risk management (including composition and terms of reference of the independent designated steering committee or grant selection committee);

 - d. describe relevant history in working with small organizations including experience in providing technical assistance;
 - e. describe the proponent’s programmatic capacity, including monitoring and evaluation capacity; and
 - f. describe the proponent’s capacity to assess and manage risks.

Component 2: Expected Results and Indicators (max 1.5 pages)

This section should articulate the proponent’s understanding of the UN Women Terms of Reference (TOR). It should contain a clear and specific statement of what the proposal will accomplish in relation to the UN Women Terms of Reference. This should include:

1. The problem statement or challenges to be addressed given the context described in the UN Women Terms of Reference.
2. The specific results expected (e.g., outputs) through engagement of the proponent. The expected results are the measurable changes which will have occurred by the end of the planned intervention. Propose specific and measurable indicators which will form the basis for monitoring and evaluation. These indicators will be refined, and will form an important part of the agreement between the proponent and UN Women.

Component 3: Description of the Technical Approach and Activities (max 2.5 pages)

This section should describe the technical approach and should be able to show the soundness and adequacy of the proposed approach, what will actually be done to produce the expected results in terms of activities. There should be a clear and direct linkage between the activities and the results at least at the output level. Specific strategies should also be described to support the achievement of results, such as building partnerships, etc.

Activity descriptions should be as specific as necessary, identifying what will be done, who will do it, when it will be done (beginning, duration, completion), and where it will be done. In describing the activities, an indication should be made regarding the organizations and individuals involved in or benefiting from the activity.

This narrative is to be complemented by a tabular presentation that will serve as Implementation Plan, as described in Component 4.

This section should also include the details of all proposed sub-contracting and sub-partnering.

Component 4: Implementation Plan (max 1.5 pages)

This section is presented in tabular form and can be attached as an annex. It should indicate the sequence of all major activities and timeframe (duration). Provide as much detail as necessary. The Implementation Plan should show a logical flow of activities. Please include all required milestone reports and monitoring reviews in the Implementation Plan.

Implementation Plan

Name of proponent organization:

1.3

Monitoring and Evaluation Plan (max. 1 page)

This section should contain an explanation of the plan for monitoring and evaluating the activities, both during its implementation (formative) and at completion (summative). Key elements to be included are:

- how the performance of the activities will be tracked in terms of achievement of the steps and milestones set forth in the Implementation Plan;
- how any mid-course correction and adjustment of the design and plans will be facilitated on the basis of feedback received; and
- how the participation of community members in the monitoring and evaluation processes will be achieved.

Component 5: Risks to Successful Implementation (1 page)

Identify and list any major risk factors that could result in the activities not producing the expected results. These should include both internal factors (for example, the technology involved fails to work as projected) and external factors (for example, significant currency fluctuations resulting into changes in the economics of the activity, risk of sub-contractors or sub-partners not performing). Describe how such risks are to be mitigated.

In this section also include the key assumptions on which the activity plan is based on. In this case, the assumptions are mostly related to external factors (for example, the assumption that the relevant government’s environmental policy will remain stable) which are anticipated in planning the activity, and on which the feasibility of the activities depend.

Please attach a risk register to capture the above risk factors and risk mitigation measures.

Component 6: Results-Based Budget (max. 1.5 pages)

The development and management of a realistic budget is an important part of developing and implementing successful activities. Careful attention to issues of financial management and integrity will enhance the effectiveness and impact of activities. The following important principles should be kept in mind in preparing a project budget:

- Include costs which relate to efficiently carrying out the activities and producing the results which are set forth in the proposal. Other associated costs should be funded from other sources.
- The budget should be realistic. Find out what planned activities will actually cost, and do not assume that they would cost less.
- The budget should include all costs associated with managing and administering the activity or results, particularly the cost of monitoring and evaluation.
- The budget could include “support costs”, being those indirect costs that are incurred to operate the Responsible Party as a whole or a segment thereof and that cannot be easily connected or traced to implementation of the work, i.e., operating expenses, over-head costs and general costs connected to the normal functioning of an organization/business (such as cost for support staff, office space and equipment that are not direct costs).
- “Support cost rate” means the flat rate at which the Responsible Party will be reimbursed by UN Women for its support costs, as set forth in the Partner Project Document and not exceeding a rate of 8% or the rate set forth in the Donor Specific Conditions, if that is lower. The flat rate is calculated on the eligible direct costs.
- The budget line items are general categories intended to assist in thinking through where money will be spent. If a planned expenditure does not appear to fit in any of the standard line-item categories, list the item under other costs, and state what the money is to be used for.
- The figures contained in the budget sheet should agree with those on the proposal header and text.
- Depending on the results to be delivered, following suggestive thresholds could be followed for costs:
 - maximum for personnel related costs on a proposal - 20% of programming costs;
 - 3% for monitoring and evaluation; and
 - up to 8% (or as per relevant donor agreement) – support costs including (utilities, rent etc.).
